Vaughn A. Starnes, MD – World Renowned Cardiothoracic Surgeon to be Honored at Bikur Cholim Annual Dinner

Bikur Cholim, (aka Jewish Healthcare Foundation), one of the leading nonprofit health care organizations on the West Coast, will be honoring world renowned cardiothoracic surgeon Vaughn A. Starnes, MD at their Annual Dinner on Sunday 9/25/11 at The Century Plaza. Among his many esteemed positions Dr. Starnes is Chief, Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery at Children's Hospital Los Angeles and Chair, Department of Surgery at Keck School of Medicine USC. Dr. Starnes joins a stellar list of physicians previously honored by Bikur Cholim for their devotion to the welfare of humanity and dedication to healing those whom they treat.

Included in the evening will be a memorial for Lillian Grossman z"l whom sadly passed away earlier this year. Lillian, a Holocaust survivor, devoted her life with her husband Harry to supporting Torah values. Lillian imbued her heritage and character into her children who both carry on their mother's commitment to chesed and caring for others. Her daughter Maureen, married to Lawrence Eisenberg, MD, and other daughter Felice, married to Aryeh Greenbaum, both of whom live in Los Angeles. Together with their father Harry Grossman amv"sh, they carry on a deep dedication to the well-being of their community.
